

BACKGROUND

John Hibbert has in his possession a book started in 1811 for the accounts of the Overseers of the Poor in the township of Broughton East. It subsequently had various uses as the Minute Book for both civil and church administrations, which varied over time with changes to their administrative structure in the township of Broughton East. Latterly, up to 1980, it was used solely as the Minute Book for Field Broughton Annual Church Meetings.

John has kindly allowed the book to be scanned to create a digital copy for the CPLHS Archives.

The book is leather bound and measures 16½ x 6½ inches, and is about 1½ inches thick with iron clasps on it, as can be seen in the image below of the outside. The book itself contains 440 pages (on 220 sheets) plus, attached towards the end by now rather rusty paper clips, the reports presented at the Annual Church Meetings from 1964 to 1980.

SUMMARY OF THE CONTENTS

The contents of the book may be conveniently regarded as being in three parts, between which came two Acts of Parliament which significantly changed administrative affairs in the township of Broughton East.

Part 1 contains the accounts of the Overseers of the Poor prior to the 1834 Poor Law Amendment Act. These start in 1811 and include a list the names of all the contributors to the rates, and the reasons for all the expenditure with details of all the necessary beneficiaries every year. Interestingly, the entries for 1812 start by referring to the valuation and assessments which had just been completed by Thomas Buttle, and are also available in the CPLHS Archives. The 1834 Poor Law Amendment Act discontinued this traditional role of a township Overseer of the Poor. Some web sites say that the office of Overseer was abolished by this Act and replaced by boards of Guardians &c. However, there are mentions of appointments of Overseers of the Poor in subsequent minutes, but their role after this Act has not been researched.

Part 2 contains the Vestry Minutes from 1838 to 1894, when Grange was mostly within the township of Broughton East. Grange ceased to be within this township when it became a separate Grange UDC in the 1894 Local Government Act. During the period covered by this part, it is conspicuous that highways, both new and diversions, concerned the vestry meetings, which also continued to appoint up to 10 people as Overseers of the Poor for the township. Amongst many interesting entries, it may be noted that in 1838/39 the minutes include the discussion of proposals to extend Broughton Chapel. This period seems to conclude with special meetings in 1893/94, with a meeting on 6 April 1894 to consider setting up a new Parish Council for the “rural part” of the township.

Part 3 contains the Vestry Minutes after 1894 for the reduced township, and seems to involve little civil administration, but evolves into meetings described as Annual Church Meetings. From 1894 to 1923, they include the accounts of a charity set up by Thomas Newby for the benefit of the Parish Clerk.

LAYOUT OF THE BOOK

The first thing to be recognised when studying the contents of the book is that the entries are not in strict chronological sequence. The PDF file of the book which has been prepared is in the actual sequence of entries in the book, with the loose inserts and attached reports with the relevant meetings to which they refer. Consequently, the 440 pages of the book have resulted in 476 images in the PDF file. The table below shows the chronological sequence of the contents and their page numbers in the PDF file. From this table, it can be seen that the nineteenth century entries are arranged in groups, originally with blank pages between them which were subsequently used at later dates.
